1. The Chinese Communists completed the Laipin-Nanning section of the Hunan-Kwangsi Railroad and inaugurated regular passenger traffic. The Nanning Railway Administration announced the suspension of traffic on this section because the roadbed has been poorly constructed and, between Litang (109-06, 23-11) and Nanning, showed signs of caving in after the recent heavy rains. The Railway Administration is now recruiting laborers to repair the road.
2. The Kwangtung-Kiangsi highway from the East River area to Hsingning (115-49, 24-04), Wehsien (116-13, 24-18), Chiaoling (116-10, 24-42), and Pingyuan (115-54, 24-51) is under heavy reconstruction in segments by local civilians. The foundation of the highway is being raised six inches and widened by six feet. The highway is being reinforced for the movement of heavy mechanized units.
